SHEET METAL WORK

Here at The Kaymet Company your customer is as important to us as you are. Our skilled workforce will transform your drawing into a beautifully finished article, whatever your tolerances and finish specifications may be.

The unique benefit to you is our one-stop approach to sheet metal work. From our Amada turret press, which enables us to manufacture small quantities without the need for expensive tooling, through our experienced workshop, and on to one of our finishing facilities; painting, anodising or plating.

From there the items can be silk screened and are put through a meticulous inspection before being carefully packed and promptly dispatched to you.

Please contact us with your next job, or with existing requirements to see how we can improve your sheet metal supply.
